

Bench - Horse Chestnut

Recrafted by Lost Art from a 19th Century Coalbrookdale design, our version is virtually (if not definitely) indistinguishable from the Victorian original. The cast iron ends feature detailed naturalistic decoration and the fitted oak slats are placed into a cast seat frame. The illustrations cannot do full justice to the quality of this bench, which requires two strong people to move any distance. This design is available as a single seat or as a 4'6" or 6'6" bench. Colour and finish are according to customer requirements.
